TechBridge Sol

Remote Work Policy

Effective Date: January 2026
Applies To: All Employees (subject to local labor laws)

1. Purpose

TechBridge Sol supports flexible work arrangements to enable employees to balance personal needs with business responsibilities. This Remote Work Policy provides guidance on eligibility, responsibilities, expectations, and technology requirements for employees working outside company premises.

The policy is designed to ensure productivity, collaboration, security, and compliance while providing flexibility and autonomy to employees.

2. Scope

This policy applies to all employees who have been approved for remote or hybrid work arrangements. Approval is based on role requirements, team needs, performance history, and manager discretion.

Employees not formally approved for remote work are expected to work on-site as required by their job responsibilities.

3. Eligibility

Eligibility for remote work depends on:

- Job function suitability for remote execution
- Performance and reliability history
- Manager and department approval
- Compliance with company technology and security standards

Remote work is not a guarantee and may be revoked if business needs, performance, or security concerns arise.

4. Remote Work Arrangements

TechBridge Sol supports several remote work arrangements:

1. Full-time remote: Employee works entirely from an off-site location.
2. Hybrid work: Employee splits time between on-site and remote work.
3. Ad hoc remote: Occasional remote work approved by the manager.

Managers are responsible for coordinating schedules, ensuring team coverage, and communicating expectations clearly.

5. Work Hours and Availability

Employees must adhere to scheduled work hours, attend required meetings, and be accessible via company communication tools during core hours.

Remote employees are expected to:

- Maintain regular work hours as agreed with their manager
- Respond promptly to emails, calls, and messages
- Participate in team meetings, video conferences, and collaboration sessions

Variations to work hours must be pre-approved and documented.

6. Workspace Requirements

Employees must maintain a safe, professional, and distraction-free workspace. Requirements include:

- Ergonomic seating and workstation setup
- Adequate lighting and internet connectivity
- Quiet environment suitable for video calls and meetings
- Compliance with company security policies for devices and data

TechBridge Sol may provide equipment or reimbursement for approved remote work setups according to company guidelines.

7. Technology and Security

Employees must use company-approved devices, software, and collaboration tools. Security measures include:

- Secure passwords and multi-factor authentication
- Encryption of sensitive data and secure file sharing
- Prompt reporting of lost or stolen devices
- Compliance with VPN and network access protocols

Employees must not store company data on personal devices unless explicitly authorized.

8. Communication and Collaboration

Remote employees are expected to maintain clear, consistent, and proactive communication with managers and colleagues. Best practices include:

- Daily or weekly check-ins as agreed with the manager
- Timely updates on project status
- Participation in virtual meetings and team activities
- Use of official communication channels for business correspondence

Collaboration tools, chat platforms, and project management software should be used consistently to ensure transparency and accountability.

9. Performance and Accountability

Remote work does not alter performance expectations. Employees must:

- Meet deadlines and deliverables
- Maintain high-quality work standards
- Proactively address obstacles or delays

Managers will monitor performance through outputs, milestones, and regular check-ins rather than physical presence.

10. Compliance and Policy Violations

Failure to comply with this Remote Work Policy may result in corrective action, including revocation of remote work privileges. Repeated or serious violations may lead to disciplinary measures according to company policy.

Employees must comply with all local laws, employment regulations, and company policies while working remotely.

11. Review and Policy Updates

TechBridge Sol reserves the right to update or amend this policy at any time. Employees will be notified of changes in a timely manner. Managers are responsible for ensuring employees are informed and trained on any updates.
